

Kindly sponsored by

AVSPNI SPRING MEETING

Date: Wednesday 19th March

Time: 6.00 pm Business Meeting
FULL AVSPNI Members only
7.15 pm Supper
8.00 pm Presentation

Venue: Glenavon Hotel, Cookstown

Topic: Advances in gastrointestinal roundworm control in pastoral livestock

Speaker: Professor Neil Sargison FRCVS

Neil Sargison is Professor of Farm Animal Practice at the University of Edinburgh, Royal (Dick) School of Veterinary Studies. He is a Fellow of the Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons is a former president of the European College of Small Ruminant Health Management and of the Sheep Veterinary Society.

Neil's primary interest is in planned livestock production, health and welfare. Current parasitology research includes studies of: population genetics and multiplicity of infection of helminth parasites; Haemonchus genomics; anthelmintic resistance in gastrointestinal nematodes; roundworm control in farm animals; management of fluke parasites; antiprotozoal drug resistance; and control of small ruminant ectoparasites.

FREE for AVSPNI Members
Non Members £60
Dinner + CPD

To Register:

<https://ti.to/avspni/spring-meeting-advances-in-gastrointestinal-roundworm-control-neil-sargison>

